FACTURE STUDIO is a contemporary art furniture company headed by designer, Quincy Ellis & artist, Nebojsa “Shoba” Seric. Based in Brooklyn, their dynamic molded works use resin to experiment endlessly with light, color & transparency. The exploration of these three concepts is central to all of the brand’s work, constantly refining their designs by changing colors, shades, shift patterns, opacities & interior core colors.

An evolving process of discovery informs FACTURE STUDIO’s work and it is intrinsic to everything produced. Quincy & Shoba’s rich but unique backgrounds serve as a sort of “checks and balances” system, ensuring that neither becomes complacent in their creative output or fails to continue pushing the envelope.

Looking ahead, FACTURE STUDIO seeks to expand upon its initial offering, continuing to blur the creative demarcation between art & design. Through the implementation of new techniques and expansion to include more experimental art objects, the brand plans to further establish itself in the design world and defy conventional thoughts on what a design studio should look like.
